

THE MIGHTY JER-DOG

JEREMY DANLEY

Named one of Bud Light's "Real Men of Comedy" in Maxim Magazine, The Mighty Jer-Dog brings to the stage a powerhouse performance delivering fast-paced one-liners and storytelling, while simultaneously incorporating sound effects, voices, characters, and improv with the audience. In 2010, Jer-Dog appeared in the tour documentary AMERICAN SMARTASS, which followed his Grassroots Comedy Tour across the Midwest trying to find the smallest town possible to perform stand-up comedy.

Jer-Dog takes the crowd on a wild roller coaster of laughs with blue-collar style material that has mass appeal without being generic or politically-correct. Jer-Dog also dives into material about the challenges of transforming from an obnoxious part-animal into a domesticated stay-at-home dad, prompting the title of his current comedy album Domesticated Party Animal (available in select retail outlets through Laughing Hyena Records) which is in rotation on Sirius-XM satellite radio's Blue Collar and Raw Dogs comedy channels. Jer-Dog has also been heard on The Bob & Tom radio show and is a frequent guest on The Stone & Double T Show (Rockford, Illinois) and The Redneck Breakfast Club (Jacksonville, Illinois.) His Grassroots Comedy Tour has also been the subject of numerous newspaper and magazine articles.

Born Jeremy Danley, and raised in the small town of Colfax, Iowa, Jer-Dog began his comedy career at the age of 18 by honing his craft at comedy clubs and karaoke/sports bars facing some of the toughest crowds imaginable. He further developed his skills on stage through a decade-long tour with a comedy wild west show performing at Six Flags and state fairs nation-wide.

Jer-Dog is a firm believer in connecting the world through humor. He gives an honest, inside look at his life on the road as a touring comedian and offers his fans free downloads of his routines.

Currently based in Chicago, Jer-Dog still spends over 150 nights a year on the road headlining comedy clubs, colleges, casinos, biker bars, summer festivals, and private events all over the U.S.

Visit Jer-Dog online at www.JERDOGCOMEDY.com and receive a free download from his CD.